

CONGRESS.

Tuesday, Jan. 12.

SENATE. After much unimportant morning business, resumed the discussion of the Preemption bill, and Mr. Calhoun advocated at length his proposition that the Public lands shall be ceded to the States in which they lie on conditions. Mr. Crittenden opposed this plan at some length, and Mr. Benton followed, in support of Preemption, concluding at a late hour, when the Senate adj.

HOUSE. Mr. Sergeant of Pa. reported from the Judiciary Committee the Senate bill abolishing imprisonment for debt in all the States where it has been or shall be abolished by the State laws. Mr. Adams moved to strike "or shall be," as unconstitutional, and vesting the power of Federal legislation in the States; but the House negatived the amendment—110 to 31—also a motion to recommit; or amend—110 to 31—also a motion to recommit; or amend—the previous question and passed the bill without a division.

The Pennsylvania contested election finally came up, and Mr. Taylor continued his argument in reply to Mr. Ingersoll, but did not conclude it.

Wednesday, Jan. 13.

SENATE. Mr. Graham of N. C. reported bills for the creation of Monuments to Brigadier General Nash, and Brigadier General Miller, of N. C. Several bills were finally passed.

The joint resolution for the transfer of the state of Maryland of the stock in the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal standing in the name of the United States, was called up by Mr. Merrick, who made a few remarks in favor of the same.

Mr. Clay of Al. and Mr. Tappan objected to action upon the resolution at the present time. Mr. Merrick spoke again in favor of it, but the Senator from Alabama persisted in calling for the orders of the day.

The pre-emption bill was then brought up, and Mr. Weston of S. C., entered into a discussion of its merits.

The Sergeant at Arms, Judge Haight, formerly of Vermont, died at his residence last night. The Senate this morning voted $500 to defray the expenses of having his body interred in Vermont, his widow having charge of his body and defraying from that appropriation the expenses of interment.

After an Executive Session the Senate adj. HOUSE. Mr. Navar continued his defence from the opening of the House until half past two o'clock, and without concluding gave way to a motion to adj.

The Motion to adjourn was withdrawn. The bills upon the Speaker's table from the Senate were read twice and referred to their appropriate Standing Committees.

Mr. Adams asked the House to fix upon this day two weeks for the consideration of a bill from the Committee on Manufactures proposing a tax on Wines and Silks. The motion was defended by Mr. Adams and opposed by Mr. Jones of Va. Mr. Cushing of Mass. replied. The yeas and nays were at length ordered upon the motion, and resulted in the affirmative, yeas 64, nays 52. No quorum voting the House was compelled to adj.

Thursday, Jan. 14.

SENATE. The public lands was again the subject of discussion in the Senate to day. Mr. Sevier of Arkansas and Mr. Smith of Ind. spoke on the subject.

From all quarters there were memorials praying for the enactment of a Bankrupt Law. The city of N. Y. sent some in favor of that measure, and one protesting against its passage,—also one signed by a number of merchants, mechanics and traders, giving the outlines of such a Bill as would be acceptable.

The joint resolution to transfer so much of the stock of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, as belonging to the general government, to the State of Maryland, was taken up, but not definitely acted on, owing to some memorial of the three towns of the State, against the measure. There is no doubt, however, that it will be transferred.

Mr. Rogers of Maine presented a memorial from the citizens of that state praying that the fishing bounty might not be abolished.

Mr. Van Buren has issued his Proclamation for the new Senate to convene on the 4th of March, 1841.

HOUSE. To-day, the question was taken on Mr. Adams' motion to suspend the rules for the purpose of making his bill to increase the duties on imported manufactures of silk the special order of the day of this month, and it was lost.

In the course of the proceedings, the House also refused to suspend the rules for the purpose of considering Mr. Green's motion to instruct the Committee on ways and means to report on the expediency of raising such a revenue from wines and silks and other articles of luxury, imported into the U. States as will meet the necessary expenditures of the government.

It may be inferred from these votes that the House does not intend to look into these subjects in the present session.

The House determined, by a vote of 85 to 42, to make the bill authorizing the issue of Treasury notes the special order for Monday next, giving it precedence over all other business until disposed of.

Mr. Naylor resumed and continued his argument in this case to day, after speaking three hours, he yielded the floor but did not conclude.

Friday, Jan. 15.

SENATE. There were memorials for a Bankrupt Law from East, West, North and South. Mr. Benton presented several from the State of N. Y., all asking that Banks and Corporations may be included in a compulsory provision.

Mr. Crittenden made an unsuccessful effort to bring the bankrupt bill under discussion. The motion met with a firm resistance from Messrs. Benton, Clay of Al. and King.

Mr. Merrick of Md. moved that the further consideration of the bill be postponed, with a view to take up the bill to incorporate the Banks of Washington. This motion was laid on the table by a party vote: yeas 15 to 15.

Mr. Southard then took the floor on the Pre-emption bill, and addressed the Senate with much force and felicity of expression, until exhausted, when he gave way for a motion to adj.

HOUSE. The House refused, by a vote of 57 to 106, to make the Bankrupt bill the special order for the 23rd inst.

The consideration of report of the Committee on Elections was resumed. The report is in favor of the right of Mr. Naylor to the seat he occupies.

After some debate the previous question was demanded, when the House came to a direct vote upon the resolution reported by the committee on Elections, which was adopted: yeas 117; nays 85. So the right of Mr. Naylor to the seat he now occupies was confirmed.

Saturday, Jan. 16.

SENATE. Among the petitions presented this morning, were two in reference to a General Bankrupt Law; one for it presented by Mr. Buchanan, and one remonstrating against the passage of a Bankrupt Bill presented by Mr. Wright of New York.

The Committee on the Judiciary reported in favor of authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to compromise with the sureties of Robert Swartwout.

Mr. Benton introduced a resolution calling upon the Committee on finance to enquire into the expediency of abolishing the Fishing Bounty; and took occasion to recite his speech on that subject to the Senate.

The discussion of the preemption bill was continued, Mr. Southard concluded his speech, Mr. Clay of Al. has the floor Monday.

HOUSE. Mr. Campbell of S. C. asked leave to offer for the following resolution,—

That Charles J. Ingersoll be paid mileage and per diem, as member of Congress, up to the time that the question of his claim to a seat in the House was decided.

The leave was refused by a vote of 65 to 85.

Mr. Proffit of Ind., said the Secretary of the Treasury had said in his report that there was a better mode of raising money than by issuing Treasury notes; he offered a resolution calling on the Secretary to explain. The motion was lost.

A bill was reported authorizing the State of Tenn. to sell certain vacant lands. Referred to the committee of the Whole.

Monday, Jan. 18th.

SENATE. Executive documents were laid on the table by the Vice President.

Several petitions for a bankrupt law were presented, also a petition in reference to the Madison papers. Mr. Moulton from the committee on Commerce, to which was referred the memorials of the branch pilots, of New York and New Orleans, reported a bill to repeal an act concerning pilots, approved March 3, 1837; which was read and ordered to a second reading.

The remainder of the day was occupied in the discussion of the Pre-emption Bill and other business of little interest.

In the House, the Treasury Note Bill authorizing the issue of five millions of dollars, was taken up in committee of the Whole. After some debate, and a proposed amendment being offered, authorizing the borrowing of ten millions; and imposing an additional duty on wines, silks and other articles, being luxuries, the House adjourned.

ARREST OF THE MAIL ROBBERS.

It will be recollected that our Baltimore Correspondent, under date of December 30th, wrote us that accounts had been received of a most extensive robbery of the Western Mail, somewhere in the neighborhood of Uniontown, Fayette co. Pa. The robbery, he stated, was commenced about the middle of November, and continued at intervals up to the 18th ult. The pouch from New York and all points east of that city had been taken eight times!—having very large remittances in it from merchants and Banks in New York and Boston. The statement was immediately contradicted in the papers of the day—in some of them on the authority of Post Masters; but the following account in every particular the information then given by our correspondent:—

ARREST.—The Uniontown, Pa. Democrat, of Friday last says:—"Our town is now the theatre of great excitement and commotion growing out of the arrest of Dr. John E. Bradlee, of this place, and three of his supposed confederates, who are charged with robbing the mail. Suspicion fell upon Mr. Corman, the driver of the stage, who was arrested at the instance of Mr. Platt, a special agent of the Post Office Department. Corman soon confessed the crime, and implicated Dr. Bradlee, his clerk, Pinnell, and a person named Strayer, who were all arrested last night. A guard was placed over the house and outbuildings of Bradlee through the night, and in the morning a search was made which resulted in finding no less than nine mail bags, labelled 'New York,' which had been concealed in the bottom of the privy. Further search was then made, and a sum of money exceeding ten thousand dollars was found in the hay mow—besides sundry apparatus for coining money—pistols, traveling trunks cut to pieces, &c. &c. They are all committed for want of bail, which was placed at a high amount. On the examination, Mr. Platt gave it as his opinion that the sum extracted at this place in cash and drafts must exceed 100,000 dollars. We understand other commitments are contemplated.

The Wilmington, Pa. Reporter, gives the following particulars as to the method of committing robberies as confessed by Corman.

On reaching the Post office in Uniontown, where the coaches generally changed, all the mails were discharged except the Eastern Mail above referred to; this was retained in the coach, per arrangement until driven into the yard, when the accomplices of the driver, received it, and conveyed it to the Office of Dr. Bradlee, when, on being rifled of its contents, the bags were thrown into a privy apartment to the premises.

This was done on the nights of the 15th, 19th, 23d, and 29th of November, and on the 5th, 12th and 18th of December.

Daniel Webster has got the largest head of any man in the country, with the single exception of a Virginia Judge, whose name we do not recollect. It is said by an American sculptor, that there are no antique busts which can be compared with Webster's, in shape, size, and intellectual appearance of the head.

THE BRITISH ACTUALLY IN PEKIN.

Reports that the British expedition against China had taken Pekin, the capital of the Celestial Empire, were current in London at the time of our last publication. They were founded on letters received from St. Petersburg, via Holland; and but little attention was paid to them. They have, however, been this week repeated, with increased confidence. The Manchester Guardian gives the following, dated St. Petersburg, 11th Dec. addressed to an "eminent foreign house" at Manchester, and received on Tuesday:—

"At the beginning of this week, a Tartar arrived here from Kaichta, with news that the English had taken the capital of China, after having bombarded it, and destroyed all the forts near the river. The Emperor, the Son of the Sun, had fled with his Mandarins. The consequence of this event will be a good treaty, which will completely change the commercial dealings with the Empire."—[London Spectator, Jan. 2.]

AFFAIRS OF THE EAST.

[From the Globe of the 28th ult.]
The intelligence received by extraordinary express from Marcellus, for which we are indebted to late edition of the Herald, confirms the report of Sir R. Stopford's refusal to confirm the convention entered into by Commodore Napier with the Pacha, on the ground of Commodore Napier's having exceeded his commission.

The disappointment and excitement from such an interruption to the progress of pacification will be greatly diminished, if not altogether removed by the intelligence that the Pacha had readily acceded to the terms proposed by Sir R. Stopford through Captain Fanshawe, his flag captain, in the name and by the authority of the British government, acting upon the treaty of July in behalf of the four Powers.

The Pacha wrote a letter to the Sultan, couched in terms expressive of the unqualified submission; engaging to restore the Turkish fleet, and finally to evacuate Syria.

RETREAT OF IBRAHIM PACHA FROM SYRIA.

At the same time that Mehmed Ali learned the refusal of Admiral Stopford to ratify the treaty, he received an overland despatch from his son Ibrahim, stating that he and his army in two divisions were in full retreat on Egypt. (The Pacha says it consists of 30,000 men.) They had kept together till their arrival at Mazarib, south east of Lake Tibial, when one column, led by himself crossed the Jordan, and marched through the Naplous (a dangerous route, through a hostile population) passing between Jaffa and Jerusalem, both now in the hands of the Sultan, and pursuing the coast road to Gaza and El Arich. He expected to arrive at the former on the 11th, without baggage or provisions, each man at starting having only taking a supply for nine days. The second column was marching by a safer route, due south, through Batman, and the ancient territories of the Ammonites and Moabites, east of the Dead Sea.

General Harrison was at Cincinnati on the 12th inst., whence he intended to start for Washington in the course of the week. He is in excellent health and fine spirits.
